

ND Juvenile Justice Planning Work Group June 2022 Update

The Services Planning working group has continued to engage in regular meetings to discuss barriers and opportunities for improved service coordination, access, and quality improvement for youth in the juvenile justice system or at risk of involvement. Key topics for discussion at recent meetings include strengthening statewide prevention services and improving the cultural competence of service delivery, particularly for indigenous populations. A memo synthesizing key takeaways and recommendations from recent meetings will be shared with the Children's Cabinet and presented for discussion at the July Cabinet meeting designed to identify policy/funding priorities for the upcoming year.
